

Contents of The Cambridge Quarterly Volume Twenty-Nine (2000)

Vol. XXIX Number One

Rhetoric and Violence in Geoffrey Hill's Mercian Hymns and the Speeches of Enoch Powell William Wootten	page 1
Derek Walcott's Omeros and Dante's Commedia Maria Cristina Fumagalli	17
Historicism and 'Presentism' in Early Modern Studies Robin Headlam Wells	37
REVIEWS
The Art of Shakespeare's Sonnets by Helen Vendler; Shakespeare's Sonnets ed. by Katherine Duncan-Jones Colin Burrow	61
Auden and Isherwood: The Berlin Years by Norman Page John Sutherland	75
Birthday Letters by Ted Hughes Ian Patterson	80
What is Painting? Representation and Modern Art by Julian Bell David Fraser Jenkins	84
Wittgenstein, Frazer and Religion by Brian Clack Ian Robinson	88

Vol. XXIX Number Two

Sargent and the Fate of Portrait Painting David Gervais	95
'What Happened to Normal? Where is Normal?' DeLillo's Americana and Running Dog Stuart Hutchinson	117

Romantic Women's Poetry – Is It Any Good?
John Constable	133
The Mentor–Lover in Mansfield Park : 'At Once Both 'Tragedy and Comedy'
Patricia Menon	145
REVIEWS
Opened Ground: Poems 1966–1996 by Seamus Heaney;
The Poetry of Seamus Heaney: A Critical Study by Neil Corcoran;
Seamus Heaney by Helen Vendler
Alice Entwistle	165
The Origin of German Tragic Drama by Walter Benjamin;
Understanding Brecht by Walter Benjamin
Gregory Dart	172
Sidewalk Critic: Lewis Mumford's Writings on New York edited by Robert Wojtowicz
Shari Sabeti	175
The Collected Works of Mary Sidney Herbert Countess of Pembroke edited and introduced by Margaret P. Hannay, Noel J. Kinnamon and Michael G. Brennan
Marion Wynne-Davies	181
A Critical Difference: T. S. Eliot and John Middleton Murry in English Literary Criticism, 1919–1928 by David Goldie
Jason Harding	184

Vol. XXIX Number Three

Introducing the Long Eighteenth Century:
Literary History and the New Pedagogy
Tom Mason and Philip Smallwood	191
Lorca and Greek Tragedy
Felicity Rosslyn	215
Making Things Happen
Peter Robinson	237

REVIEWS

Between Worlds: Delacroix and Painting
David Gervais	267

Hershel's Kingdom by Dan Jacobson Piotr Kuhiwczak	283
Edmund Spenser: The Shorter Poems John Roe	289

Vol. XXIX Number Four

Introduction Geoffrey Wall	293
Biography and Shakespeare: An Outsider's View David Ellis	296
Biography in the Seventeenth Century Graham Parry	314
Johnson and the Lives of Poets Fred Parker	323
Hazlitt and Biography Gregory Dart	338
The Impossible Art: Virginia Woolf and Modern Biography Elena Gualtieri	349
Proust's Notebook of 1908 William C. Carter	362
Sartre: Scenes from a Life Geoffrey Wall	373
Roland Barthes's Resurrection of the Author and Redemption of Biography J. C. Carlier	386
The Ethics of Biographical Reading: A Pragmatic Approach Frédéric Regard	394
Biography, Pathography, and the Recovery of Meaning John Wiltshire	409